

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE
Military Caregiver Support

What Resources are Included in the Caregiver Resource Directory?

The Caregiver Resource Directory includes the most commonly referenced resources, organizations, agencies, and programs that provide support to the caregivers of wounded, ill, or injured Service members. The concept of the Caregiver Resource Directory is to connect communities with caregivers, building public awareness and support for caregivers.

The resources, organizations, agencies, and programs included in the Caregiver Resource Directory have been reviewed and vetted in accordance with the National Resource Directory's participation policy, which can be found at www.nrd.gov. No product endorsements or preferential treatment is given to any organization, agency, or program that is listed in the Caregiver Resource Directory.

This Caregiver Resource Directory is a dynamic directory that will be refined on a regular basis. We encourage you to access the digital version of the Caregiver Resource Directory at <https://warriorcare.dodlive.mil/caregiver-resources>.

If you have questions or feedback regarding the Caregiver Resource Directory, or are an organization that wishes to be included in future editions of the Caregiver Resource Directory, please email: OSD.Caregiver@mail.mil

To the Caregivers of Wounded, Ill, or Injured Service members...

As the caregiver of a wounded, ill, or injured service member, your life has changed significantly. You are now facing new and demanding challenges. With many organizations offering support and services, it can be difficult to sort out the specific type of resource or program best suited for your needs. Therefore, this directory is compiled for you — the caregiver — as its primary focus. It's designed to provide information in a manner that enables you to quickly identify many of the available resources, which address your particular needs and requirements.

We believe this directory assists you in the following ways:

- Helps you find and connect with the specific assistance you need. This directory lists many government and nonprofit resources, which you can access both in-person and online, and intends to address just about every conceivable need you may have.
- Helps you become more educated about your wounded, ill, or injured service member's medical condition. Knowledge is power and no one advocates for your service member the way you will. Plus, the more you learn about your loved one's condition, the more comfortable, prepared, and capable you'll become in handling any unexpected circumstances you may encounter.
- Helps you to connect with others. You'll discover, if you haven't already, that you're a part of a larger community of caregivers and caregiver supporters who have made themselves available for contact, interaction, and networking. You are truly not alone.
- Helps you to take care of yourself. This is a subject often overlooked, but vitally important. Unquestionably, the act of caregiving exacts a tremendous physical and mental toll on the caregiver. It's important for you to make self-care a top priority.

“When a service member becomes wounded, ill, or injured, their military caregiver begins performing the vital service of caring for their loved one. Caregivers are a significant part of the healthcare team and we’ve seen many instances of caregivers being integral to positive outcomes for their service member.

It’s imperative that we support our caregivers to bolster their strength, provide opportunities to connect with peers, and offer guidance and resources to help them care for their service member and themselves. The Caregiver Resource Directory is an invaluable tool that aids caregivers as they advocate for their service member.

Today, there are approximately 15,000 military caregivers who are actively caring for Service members, a number we expect to hold steady for the foreseeable future. There are also more than one (1) million caregivers providing support to post-September 11 veterans. The requirement to support this community of caregivers is enduring.

Caregivers dedicate much of their lives and resources to caring for their wounded, ill, or injured service member. Through the Caregiver Resource Directory and other caregiver-specific programs and resources, the Department of Defense is committed to providing proactive support to ensure caregivers are able to care for their Service members, their families, and themselves.”

Respite Care for Caregivers

TRICARE'S respite care benefit offers short-term care to seriously ill or injured active duty Service members to give their caregiver some rest and a change from assisting them with activities of daily living (e.g., dressing, feeding, hygiene). The case manager or another approving authority may approve respite care if the service member's care includes more than two "interventions during the eight-hour period per day that the primary caregiver would normally be sleeping." Respite care is limited to eight hours per day, five days per week and must be provided by a TRICARE-authorized home health agency. Federal law authorizing respite for TRICARE ECHO participants — family members of Service members — was amended to allow this benefit for Service members.
